ATTORNEY'S REPORT

Status of Development Reimbursement Letters

Attorney McCarter explained that he had an initial discussion with Attorney John Albers about releasing the reimbursement funds; however, he had not followed through with any further discussion or had a resolution. Attorney Albers underscored the extreme financial volatility of releasing reimbursement funds, comparing it to "lighting dynamite." A primary vulnerability with the earlier JEDD agreements was the absence of a "drop-dead" or expiration clause. Without an explicit termination date or a hard deadline, stripping the developers of their right to reimbursement, the Board could not easily enforce a strict cutoff period. Instead, the passage of time, without corrective action, complicated the legal landscape, forcing the Board to rely on complex common-law arguments regarding contractual waivers and estoppel—contending that the developers effectively waived their rights by missing baseline submission windows. To mitigate the immediate risk of an improper fund distribution, Attorney Shook discussed the strategic merits of initiating a preemptive declaratory judgment action. Filing a declaratory judgment could effectively freeze the disputed funds safely, keeping the capital intact while a court determines legal ownership. This judicial remedy was especially critical given the scale of the financial liability. The structural variance between these agreements stems from their authorship. The first two JEDDS were drafted externally by outside counsel and contain disparate terms, whereas JEDDs three, four, and seven were executed internally, establishing a tighter, more uniform oversight framework. The immediate financial incentive for local developers was the property tax relief offered by the CRA. However, to secure the school district's mandatory approval for such high-level tax exemptions, the agreement tied the CRA to the parallel creation of a TIF and a JEDD. This mechanism was explicitly designed to capture JEDD income tax revenues and redirect them to compensate the local school district for its projected losses. Attorney McCarter indicated that the "touchstone" for what qualified as a reimbursable expense under these agreements was strictly limited to major off-site public infrastructure improvements. The original developers were tasked with an expansive infrastructure project that required building a major access corridor and installing significantly oversized water and sewer main extensions (JEDD #3). This oversized utility network was engineered to loop across the landscape to connect with an intersecting roadway to the west, thereby stabilizing and improving the utility capacity for the general benefit of the broader municipal network. He emphasized that while these off-site utility improvements historically met the high threshold required for TIF reimbursement. The developer could come back and still claim that reimbursement leaving the JEDD vulnerable should the reimbursement funds be disbursed. Attorney McCarter suggested the reimbursement funds be maintained as a cautionary measure.

BASIC AUDIT REPORT

Etna-Reynoldsburg Joint Economic Development District 2
Licking County
7232 East Main Street
Reynoldsburg, Ohio 43068

We have completed certain procedures in accordance with Ohio Rev. Code § 117.01(G) to the accounting records and related documents of the Etna-Reynoldsburg Joint Economic Development District 2, Licking County, (the District) for the years ended December 31, 2025 and 2024.

Our procedures were designed solely to satisfy the audit requirements of Ohio Rev. Code § 117.11(A). Because our procedures were not designed to opine on the District's financial statements, we did not follow generally accepted auditing standards. We do not provide any assurance on the District's financial statements, transactions or balances for the years ended December 31, 2025 and 2024.

The District's management is responsible for preparing and maintaining its accounting records and related documents. Our responsibility under Ohio Rev. Code § 117.11(A) is to examine, analyze and inspect these records and documents.

Based on the results of our procedures, we found the following significant compliance or accounting issue to report.

Current Year Observation

1. Ohio Revised Code §149.43(B)(1) states in part, upon request by any person and subject to division (B)(8) of this section, requires that all public records responsive to the request shall be promptly prepared and made available for inspection to the requester at all reasonable times during regular business hours. Subject to division (B)(8) of this section, upon request by any person, a public office or person responsible for public records shall make copies of the requested public record available to the requester at a cost and within a reasonable period of time.

Recently, the Ohio Supreme Court in State ex rel. Robinson v. Wesson, 2025-Ohio-1874 (Decided May 28, 2025), reiterated that the analysis of a 'reasonable period of time' depends on the pertinent facts and circumstances of each public records request. This analysis focuses on the scope, complexity, volume, workload of the public office, location of the records and need for redactions, if any. Most importantly, the Court noted situations where it determined that a six-day delay was considered unreasonable (State ex rel. Consumer News Serv., Inc. v. Worthington City Bd. Of Edn., 2002-Ohio-5311), and compared it to another situation where it found that a two-month delay was reasonable (State ex rel. Cincinnati Enquirer v. Pike Cty. Coroner's Office, 2017-Ohio-8988).

The District received one public records request during the audit period on March 8, 2024, and was not completed until June 7, 2024. The request included three simple questions concerning publicly available information from the Regional Income Tax Authority (RITA) and one partially complex question concerning multiple parcels across different JEDD districts, resulting in the District creating a map that was not in existence prior to the public records request. Additionally, the public records request concerned tax information, was submitted prior to the income tax deadline, but was not provided to the requestor until weeks after the income tax deadline. None of the requested information required redactions, or legal review, by the District.

The District acknowledged receipt of the public records request seven days after receipt and follow up from the requestor on March 15, 2024. In the acknowledgement, the District indicated that information would be provided by the end of the following week. Thirteen days later, on March 27, 2024, the requestor sent a follow up email requesting an update, which went unanswered. The requestor sent a second follow up email on April 11, 2024, requesting an update, which a response was provided by the District on April 24, 2024, indicating that it was gathering information due to recent changes in business. Ultimately, a response was provided by the District on June 7, 2024, 91 days later.

Not responding to public record requests within a reasonable period of time, could result in legal action and court costs. When the District has readily accessible information, but requires additional time to fulfill a request, it should provide the information readily available and advise the requestor that additional time is needed to fulfill the remaining portion. However, the District is not required to create documents in response to a public records request—it is only required to provide documents that are already in existence that are responsive to a request.

The District should ensure that public records requests are fulfilled in accordance with the Ohio Rev. Code and the District's public records policy.
